

INDEX

- STUDIES
- Jens Gieseke ♦ The post-Stalinist mode of Chekism: communist secret police forces and regime change after mass terror 16
- Evgenia Lezina ♦ Soviet state security and the regime of secrecy: guarding state secrets and political control of industrial enterprises and institutions in the post-Stalin era 38
- Witold Bagiński ♦ The Polish People's Republic and KGB Intelligence Cooperation after 1956 70
- Igor Cașu ♦ The mass deportation from Bessarabia/Moldavian SSR in mid-June 1941. Enhancing security, a social engineering operation, or something else? 86
- Aigi Rahi-Tamm – Meelis Saueauk ♦ Relations between Soviet security organs and the Estonian Communist Party in 1940–1953. A case of mass deportations in March 1949 108
- Éva Petrás ♦ The struggle of Hungarian Christian Democrats for a democratic Hungary, 1944–1957 122
- Aleš Gabrič ♦ Communist State Security's role in the persecution of "the old communists" in Slovenia 138
- Martin Previšić ♦ Tito-Stalin conflict and the Yugoslav Secret Police (UDBA) in 1948–1956 154
- Mária Palasik ♦ From the Budapest Dance Palace to the autopsy table: The Lopusnyik Case, or the defection and death of a secret agent at the beginning of the Kádár era 166
- Fernando Jiménez Herrera ♦ Between Spain and Russia: The long shadow of the Soviet Cheka and its use in propaganda in Spain in the 1920s and 1930s as well as during the Spanish Civil War 186
- DOCUMENTS
- Michal Miklovič ♦ Czechoslovak security advisers in Mali in the years 1960–1964 (study and selected documents) 202

INTERVIEW	Ondřej Vojtěchovský ♦ Every assassination led into a circle of violence. An interview with Christian Axboe Nielsen on his research and forthcoming book on the Yugoslav state security service's “illegal operations”	220
REVIEWS	Ondřej Vojtěchovský ♦ PREVIŠIĆ, Martin: Povijest Golog otoka (History of Goli otok island)	230
SUMMARY		242
INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS		250
CITATION STANDARD		251